

Innovations, Research and Evaluation in Sexual and Reproductive Health— North East Event

Purpose of the event: The Sexual Health Research Practice network in the North East aims to promote collaboration between research and practice to increase the use of evidence in the planning, commissioning and delivery of sexual health services and interventions . The event will be an opportunity to:

- ◆ Receive national updates on sexual and reproductive health research and innovation projects
- ◆ Share examples of local innovation, research and evaluation
- ◆ Network and engage with local colleagues in the field
- ◆ Identify opportunities for further research and innovation collaborations across the North East

Themes/topics: These will include speakers on Missed Opportunities in Pregnancy (MOPP), Chemsex, on-line delivery of services and workshops on practical aspects and support available for local research, the use of digital technology, SRE/Teenage Pregnancy and settings approach to addressing sexual health needs

Where? Ramside Hall Hotel

When? Monday 3 October 2016

What time? 09:30-15.30 (coffee and registration from 09.30)

Who should attend? All those involved in the delivery and commissioning of sexual health across the North East including; clinicians, academics, and sexual health leads across the local authorities

This is a great opportunity to share information with colleagues around the region on innovative sexual health projects, audits, evaluations and research from clinicians, public health and voluntary sector, as well as academics. We are also keen to display any posters / story boards that have been presented at other conferences.
